A Possible Financial Breakdown:

100 people attend the dinner
 They donate approximately $5 per person = $500
 30 students participate in the Dinner and auction
 Because not everyone brought supplies, we had to spend $20 to help cover the cost of missing food.
 Each student can deduct $16 off of their retreat cost.

Student 1 silent auctions themselves to babysit.
 Their winning bid is $35.
 They also auction themselves off to help with house-cleaning for $45
 This student now has $96 to put towards any upcoming event.

Student 2 silent auctions themselves for yard work and car washing.
 The winning bids are $45 and $25.
 They also live auction themselves for general manual labor. Their winning bid is $45
 Student 2 now has $131 for the upcoming events of their choice.

Student 3 silent auctions off some beaded necklaces and some bracelets for a total of $35.
 They also put together a basket made from donations from several stores in town. (2 Movie tickets, and some stuff from the Dollar Tree.) Because of the well done presentation, this gift basket is bid for $50. They live auction themselves off for babysitting and because they were very kind serving dinner, their winning bid is $50.
 This student now has $146 raised and can attend a winter retreat for free!

CEFC Student Ministries Dinner and Student Auction

Here at Community Church, we are pursuing not only ways for you to Grow Spiritually, but also Socially and throughout your lives. We want you to be able to not only connect well with your peers, but also your families, and our local community.

We want to provide some of the best and most exciting events and opportunities for you and your friends to attend this year.

Unfortunately, with the economy being what it is, costs are rising and money can be pretty tight for you and your family.

But there are possibilities!

In a blended effort to connect with the community, ease financial strain on your family and develop new options for you, we will be holding several opportunities for you to raise money to help reduce costs for upcoming retreats and other events. With as many options that we will have this year to raise money for events, you have the potential to attend most of the events for free!

We do believe that God will provide for all of our needs (Philippians 4:19), but the Bible also talks about the importance of being diligent and working hard. (Proverbs 12:11)

So What does this mean for me?

To assist in helping to offset the cost of these events, we will be hosting a dinner and a student auction. All funds raised from the dinner will assist with keeping the costs of these events low for all participants. During the dinner, there will be a silent as well as a live auction involving these students. The funds received for the auction will go directly to the participating students.

How does this work?

We need YOU to invite family and friends to attend the dinner and donate what they would have spent on dinner. Donations for dinner will be accepted at the door. Child-care will also be available and additional donations will also be accepted. During the course of the meal, A silent auction will be held for items you make/create (Paintings, Pictures, jewelry, etc.) and services you are willing to provide (babysitting, yard work, cleaning, housework, etc.) Between Dinner and Dessert, a live auction will be held with Students for similar services. Checks and cash will be accepted for the winning bid. Bids may be redeemed up to 6 months after the auction. Students will trade information with those who have bid on them. Each student and winning bidder will be responsible to make the appropriate arrangements. Any services not claimed after 6 months will be considered a donation to CEFC Student Ministries. Students will have additional specified information that can be downloaded at CEFCYouth.com

Each student is requested to sign up in advance either online or at CEFC Youth Events.
